

SUMMER ILLS

The many ills that come during the hot, sultry weather can be avoided by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, taken regularly as prescribed.

The exhausting heat of the Summer weather causes untold suffering and misery to thousands of men, women and children. Deaths occur on all sides from diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, typhoid and other fevers, due in a great number of cases to impure water and the consumption of unripe fruits by those whose systems and stomachs are not in a healthy condition.

If all were more careful to have their systems in a vigorous condition the germs of these diseases could not obtain a foothold. Leading doctors agree that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has no equal as a destroyer of poisonous germs in the system. It aids digestion and assimilation; purifies and enriches the blood; regulates the bowels; quiets the nerves; hardens the muscles; stimulates the heart's action and builds up and sustains the entire system.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Can be retained by the most delicate stomach, as it is a food already digested. It is also absolutely pure and contains no fusel oil, and is the only whiskey recognized as a medicine.

THE GUINEA PIG PROVED IT

That dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, are caused by a germ or parasite is now recognized by dermatologists everywhere.

A notable demonstration was by Drs. Lassar and Bishop, who took dandruff scales from the head of a student who was losing his hair, and having made a pomade of them with vaseline, rubbed the same upon a guinea pig, and the pig became bald. (See Geo. Thomas Jackson, M. D., on diseases of skin, 4th edition.)

FOR HOT WEATHER

During the summer months, Herpicide is an absolute necessity. Its antiseptic and purifying action, cleanses, cools and comforts the scalp. It quickly removes dried sebum and perspiration that clogs the pores of the scalp. It stops itching almost instantly.

CHICAGO TAKES CUSTOMS OF CHINESE

He Also Discusses Bugbear of So-Called Oriental Boycott.

Baruch Cerf, representing the Zeno Manufacturing company of Chicago, is a guest at the Kenyon and speaks from personal experience on Chinese questions as follows:

"The bugbear of the boycott so extensively advertised recently was wholly in the minds of the American writers who had a purpose, which was to add the Cantonese coolie business agents in reviving their coolie export trade. If we go back to the basis, which is really the exclusion act, and a desire to break through it, we can understand the boycott. These agents advance money to Cantonese Chinamen (the only class that comes here) to come, at a rate of interest of 5 per cent monthly, compounded, till all is paid. It was a lucrative business and they could and did pay to get it established."

A great difficulty with American goods in China comes from the fact that a Chinaman cannot understand that a can, on which is a label with flowers, could contain anything but meat. Their tools are not as theirs. A Chinaman uses an ax or hammer by main strength, never swinging either. The handles should be made with that end in view. This peculiarity of the people should be regarded in all we make to sell to them.

"In the matter of labor-saving machinery we have to contend with their hostility to all such. We had a shipment of rice-cleaning or winnowing machines, one of which would clean more rice than twenty natives could by the old method, and they tried to throw them all overboard. If we would first learn their needs and then honestly supply them, we should have no more of boycotts."

"China is our natural Eastern market, and she is the wealthiest of all the Eastern peoples, and the American people can reach and hold China. They will only study their needs. We are too apt to underestimate them. The Chinese gave us paper, powder, ink, glass, printing, and even the egg incubator, having used all of these things for centuries before we knew of them. Such a people can be led to use our modern inventions, but they cannot be driven."

"In the United States Consular reports of last year, No. 249, I set forth these things and am glad to know they are being generally favored. When we learn that we have to do with a people who have been for 3000 years under a national superstition, we will come nearer winning the Chinese foreign market than our present unjust and unwise methods are likely to do."

PUSHED INTO FLAMES LITTLE GIRL PERISHES

Victim Is Trampled Down by Feet of Those Who Would Rescue.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Pushed into a bonfire by one of a crowd of boys with whom she was playing near her home Saturday afternoon, Lillie Bernstein, 12 years old, 367 West Thirty-Eighth street, died yesterday of the burns and of wounds inflicted by several men who, when she was trampled on her in an effort to extinguish her burning clothing.

Her brother, William, 10 years old, was severely burned in an effort to put out the flames, and is in a serious condition at his home.

A thorough search into the circumstances that led to the death of the girl and the injury to her brother is being made by their father and the police, and several warrants will be issued for the arrest of the children with whom they were at play.

The elder Bernstein said last night that he would prosecute George Doran, a saloon-keeper in the neighborhood, who is said to have kindled the fire to burn up rubbish, and that an effort would be made to make him tell the names of the patrons of his place who trampled on the little victim.

The Bernstein children, according to their father, have been unpopular with the other children of the neighborhood because of their nationality, and they have frequently been beaten and hit with stones.

Saturday, when the bonfire was found by them, they joined the crowd to play about it. Lillie had just told her brother not to go to the fire, but he did not listen and she lunged right into the middle of the fire. None of the children offered to help her, and she was burned to death.

With some difficulty, succeeded in pulling her out onto the grass.

Beating the burning clothing with his hat, he called for help, and several men ran from the saloon to where Lillie was rolling about. The father heard the cries and rushed to his daughter's assistance, but by the time he reached the place both the men and the children had disappeared.

Bernstein carried his daughter to their home and immediately summoned a physician, who ordered the child's removal to the Michael Reese hospital, where she died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. An examination of the body after death showed several severe burns on the head, neck and face, and it is the theory of the father that the men were drunk and deliberately jumped on the child in an effort to put out the fire.

"I will investigate this outrage to the limit," said Bernstein last night. "Somebody pushed Lillie into the fire, and I will not rest until I find him and put him in jail. The first thing I will do in the morning will be to secure a warrant for the arrest of Doran. He started the fire, and then left it there for the children to play in."

RAILROAD BUILDING IN LAND OF MIKADO

Representatives of the Japanese Government Here to Inspect Roads.

Takegoro Okada, engineer to the Imperial Government railways of Japan, and Hidero Kasuga, secretary to the Finance Department of the Imperial Government railways, both of Tokyo, are guests at the Kenyon. Both are just in from Japan via Honolulu and San Francisco, and speak of their Imperial commission as follows:

"The matter of railroad construction is one of the deepest interest to our people, and now that the Imperial Government has taken over many of the privately-owned roads, and has built and is building, scores of miles of new road, it became important that we should know of ways and means for conducting them on a paying basis. With this end in view, my companion and myself are commissioned by the Imperial Government to visit the United States and Canada, England, France, Germany, Russia and all of Continental Europe, where a railroad in any of its thousand phases may be studied."

"Our roads are all what you call narrow-gauge, and it will be a chief object of our inquiry to contrast relative costs in broad and narrow-gauge traffic."

"You will get some idea of our roads when I tell you we are operating in all 7600 miles of road, costing 600,000,000 yen, yielding a profit of 49,000,000 yen. Our charges are about 14 cents per mile. We have 2600 locomotives and 47,000 cars and coaches of all descriptions."

"But all of this may be said to be only a beginning of what the Government means to do in the next five years. We shall make an exhaustive inquiry into all we can find, and return in ten months to give form to our trip."

"Mr. Kasuga will look into the financial end of all matters touching railroad work, and recommend all such as shall be for our good. In an especial manner will he examine accounts as they are kept by the Americans, believing you have the best system in the world. Of course, our trip is only begun, but when we pass through, returning, we are glad to give you the results of our work."

"Our people are fast forgetting that we had a war, and every energy of our Nation is being turned to the placing of Japan in the column of advancing nations."

"We are delighted with America, and are made to wonder at your great country every day since we landed. We are naturally friendly to your people."

MILLIONAIRE'S WIFE ACCUSED

Purse Taken in Store—Lammers Returns It—Scene in Court.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Mrs. Herman C. Lammers appeared in the Harrison street police station today to answer a charge of theft. She came in her husband's automobile and at first refused to enter the court.

"She will have to appear in this court on her bond or forfeit," said Justice Prindle.

With her face heavily veiled, Mrs. Lammers, who made the charge, said she placed her purse in a chair in a department store, and that Mr. Lammers took it. The next day Mr. Lammers called on her, she said, and returned the purse. She said $65 and a check for $20 were missing. Mrs. Lammers says she saw no money or check.

The trial was postponed for a week. Lammers is a millionaire and his wife is a leader in the social and club world in Chicago.

WILL WED AT SEA TO EVADE THE LAND LAWS

Canadian Girl to Marry Her Lover Outside Three-Mile Limit.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Dan Cupid is going to have something to say about the navigation of the Trinidad Trading and Shipping company's steamship Maraval when that craft puts out from the foot of Harrison street, Brooklyn, and sets sail for the island of Trinidad. On board will be Miss Allie Wyle, a comely miss of Ottawa, Canada. She is going to join her lover and he married before the ship reaches its destination.

Miss Wyle's former schoolmate and present sweetheart left Ottawa a year ago to become superintendent of an electric lighting plant in Trinidad. He is going to her some time ago telling her that he was anxious to marry, but that the prospects were that he couldn't get away from the island for a long time. The young woman sent a letter back saying she would come to the island and marry him there.

Six Months' Residence Required.

A letter from the young man cast gloom over the project when it explained that the colonial laws required a six months' residence before a person would be allowed to marry.

There was an exchange of more letters and a cheering one finally arrived from the impatient young man. It told that he had found a way out of the difficulty. Miss Wyle was to make the trip, he would meet the ship outside the three-mile limit and colonial laws be damned—they would be married.

Miss Wyle then wrote to Clement Kinsale, agent for a Canadian whiskey house in this city, and he booked her passage on the Maraval. She has arrived here and is stopping with friends in Brooklyn. She hasn't brought a person along with her and depends on her fiancé getting one in Trinidad to make the trip out to sea and beyond the three-mile limit.

The jolly old skipper of the Maraval says that if all the sky pilots in Trinidad weakened and refuse to make the trip there is nothing to prevent the wedding if the bridegroom doesn't lose his nerve. The captain says that marrying couples is one of the privileges enjoyed by skippers on the high seas.

HONOR TO CHAMBERLAIN

City of Birmingham Pays Tribute to Distinguished Englishman.

BIRMINGHAM, England, July 7.—This is "Chamberlain day" and the whole city, irrespective of politics, is enjoying a holiday in honor of the distinguished tariff reformer, Joseph Chamberlain, who today celebrated his seventieth birthday. There are decorations everywhere, the city is filled with visitors and all sorts of processions and entertainments are going on. The Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress gave a reception and luncheon to Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, who were accompanied by Mrs. Endicott (mother of Mrs. Chamberlain) of Boston, Mass.

Subsequently the party made a tour of the parks, where thousands of the city school children were especially entertained. Mr. Chamberlain took advantage of the occasion to give out a characteristic message to the nation as follows:

"To foreigners as they treat us and treat your kinsmen better than you treat foreigners."

PRINTERS UPHELD

Investigation of Delay in the Government Office Is Begun.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Acting for the Senate Committee on Printing, A. H. Howe, clerk of that body, today began the examination of witnesses to ascertain if possible the cause of the delay in the enrollment of bills on the last day of the recent session of Congress.

Capt. P. T. Bryan, chief clerk of the printing office, said that never during the twenty-two years of his service had the printing offices been more efficient, expeditious and better organized than at present. He said that the office had not been responsible for the delays under investigation. Other officials and employees of the printing office testified to the same effect. No member of the House enrolling force was present.

WOMAN DIES IN FIRE

Flames Destroy an Apartment House in Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 8.—Fire early this (Sunday) morning partly destroyed an apartment house at the corner of Rhode Island and Fourteenth streets. Mrs. K. F. MacKinnon, a widow, who occupied rooms on the third floor, was burned to death. The remainder of the family consisted of three boys and two girls. The boys escaped uninjured and succeeded in rescuing their sisters, Isabella and Maria, but not until the latter had been seriously injured. The girls were removed to a hospital, where it was said at a late hour that they might recover. The loss caused by the fire was small.

STRUCK HIS NEECE DID A BRUTAL MAN

Later He Secured a Gun, Threatened Her Relatives—He Is in Jail.

Samuel Anderson, a teamster, was arrested shortly after midnight and booked at police headquarters for carrying concealed weapons.

Anderson formerly lived with his mother, Mrs. Jane C. Anderson, at 523 West Fifth South street, and has for the past several months, it is alleged, been trying to get possession of the residence property.

Last Thursday night he went to his mother's home and precipitated a family row, at the climax of which, it is said, he struck his niece, severely injuring and threatening to kill her. It is believed that he would have gone further with his brutality, possibly to the extent of carrying out his murderous threats, had not a man who rooms next door heard the young woman scream and run in to her assistance.

At the stranger's appearance Anderson ran out of the house and was not seen since until early this morning, when a message was telephoned into police headquarters that he had returned to his mother's house armed with a pistol and was again threatening to kill his relatives.

Arrested at Mother's Home.

Officers Rhodes, Wheeling and Heath hurried to the house and made the arrest.

At the prison Anderson stubbornly refused to say anything about the case. It is likely that more serious charge than carrying concealed weapons will be made against the prisoner when the police have completed their investigations.

COUNT BONI IS NOW BUMPING THE BUMPS

Notorious Little Frenchman Is Expelled From Chamber of Deputies.

PARIS, July 7.—Count Boni de Castellane was today expelled from the Chamber of Deputies. By a vote of 253 to 221 the body annulled his election on account of corruption alleged to have been used in securing a majority in the balloting.

Count Boni, who vigorously denied the accusation against him, made a counter charge of similar character against his opponent.

He said a press campaign had been started against him during his "painful family difficulties," adding that he would have taken other means of replying to those attacks but did not wish to bring himself into prominence at that time.

Count Boni's intimation that were it not for his marital troubles he would have sought satisfaction at the sword's point, was received with jeers in the chamber.

The case against the Count has been before the chamber ever since the election, his opponent having declared that large sums of money were spent to secure the election of the nobleman.

Action Was Delayed.

The matter had come to vote in the committee twice before, but on each occasion Count Boni has succeeded in keeping his seat. Since he has been sued for divorce by the Countess, who was formerly Anna Gould, his popularity has been waning.

His financial affairs are in a bad way and many of his former adherents have deserted him.

The action of the chamber today probably marks his absolute retirement from political affairs. It could be only with great difficulty that he could be returned, and the Royalist party is not strong enough in any part of France to aid him.

It is generally conceded here that when the Gould millions vanished the power of Boni went, too.

Value of a Lightning Flash.

An ingenious Belgian engineer has been figuring out how much electric energy of an ordinary lightning discharge would cost to produce by means of an electric light plant. His methods and conclusions are as follows: "By measuring the magnetism of certain iron-bearing rocks it has been found that the magnetizing lightning discharge must have been at least 6000 amperes. In reality the intensity must have been much greater, since the rock was at a considerable distance from a striking point of the lightning. It is best, however, to be moderate in such estimates, and we may fix the energy at the modest figure of 27,777 kilowatt hours. Putting in the kilowatt as the lowest price at which it has been possible to produce it in practice under good conditions—that is to say, by hydraulic power—it would cost one-fifth of a cent, so that the price of the whole would be $65." At Brussels, where the inventor lives, the industrial kilowatt brings from the consumer 10 cents. At this rate a lightning stroke would cost $2777. Thunder would be dearer still in other cities at this rate.

Sliding Motorboat.

French designers have recently put into service a peculiar model of motorboat, designed to slide over the water instead of cutting through it. This result is achieved by the peculiar shape of the under part of the vessel, which slopes backward slowly from the bow to a maximum depth at about the center of the craft, somewhat like the smooth under surface of a saucer.

In general appearance this new motorboat is not unlike a submarine. It is built of steel plates and has been found to pitch and roll but little under awells and heavy seas.

JILTED SUITOR SUES AFTER SEVEN YEARS

Chicago Man Broods Long Before Asking Heavy Damages of City.

CHICAGO, July 7.—After thinking over the matter carefully for something like seven years, Erick Nordstrom yesterday decided that the city owed him the trifling sum of $25,000, because in 1899 he failed to marry Mathilde Svenson.

In that year, according to Mr. Nordstrom, a person named Christanson happened along and married Mathilde, and in this connection he blames Nordstrom as a suitor for the hand of Mathilde. Nordstrom, as the corporation of the city of Chicago, Nordstrom, is stated, threatened to arrest Mr. Nordstrom, and the clergyman married Mathilde to Mr. Christanson.

Nordstrom has figured the matter out very carefully, and has come to the conclusion that the affection of Mathilde is worth $2714.29 per annum. He wants to be paid at once.

Blames the Officer.

It appears from the statement of the complainant that Sergt. Cullinan used his official position to spread stories reflecting on the eligibility of Nordstrom as a suitor for the hand of Miss Svenson. This action on the part of the paid guardian of law and order had the effect of interfering with the suit of the complainant, and so great was the handicap that when he got into his stride the race was all over and Miss Svenson was Mrs. Christanson.

In the present suit against the city Mr. Nordstrom is acting as his own attorney. His bill of complaint is made out in pen and ink, instead of the customary typewritten style, and the document is regarded as being as original as the statements it contains.

KNOTTY POINT RAISED

Question of Jurisdiction of Civil Authorities in Reservations Up.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The War department has now on hand another interesting case involving the jurisdiction of civil courts over persons committing offenses on a military reservation.

A soldier of the Porto Rican provisional regiment stationed at San Juan, a sentry, shot and killed a trespasser on the military reservation. The incident called for investigation by the court, but the commander of the post denied its right to serve process on the reservation, claiming that it was exclusively under the jurisdiction of the United States District court. Meanwhile the soldier was arrested and acquitted by court-martial.

Subsequent correspondence between the War and Navy departments revealed the fact that the United States and insular courts of the island took different views of the right of the War department for crimes committed in United States military reservations.

In order to settle this important question the commanding officer of the post at San Juan has now been instructed to permit the service of process to be served on the reservation, and the Department of Justice has been requested to direct the United States District Attorney for Porto Rico to sue out a writ of habeas corpus directed against the District court, thus bringing the matter before the United States court. An appeal from its findings can then be taken by either party to the United States Supreme court.
